Do's and Don'ts

The following photographs are offered to provide clarification on what and what's not acceptable when painting your home.

The Santa Fe Ridge HOA provides one of the most extensive paint color choices available of any HOA in the valley.

We have provided this to insure conformability in our Community but also allow individuality of the Homeowner.

Do — The eave should be completely painted to match the Trim Color.

Don't — Painting only the Trim Face is unacceptable.

Don't — The homeowner used three colors in place of the allowed two colors referenced in the CC&R code indicating only Two.

Do — Here is another example using the approved two color scheme. Bump outs are to be painted on all three sides.

Don't — Not following the approved color schemes, this home owner used four colors in place of the standard two.

Don't- Garage door must be paint same color as body or trim. It is the owners choice.

Don't — The garage door and trim are scheme 12, However the Homeowner added a third main body color.

Don't — Bump outs must be painted on all three sides, not just the front as shown above.

Don't — Louvers must be painted the same as the Main Body color or the Trim color.

Don't — Gates may be painted either the same as the Main Body, Trim Color, or Natural wood. Natural Wood Gates must be sealed.

Note: At no time may the Drip Edge remain unfinished or left in bare metal condition.

3. Roof Jacks & Vents — Must be painted White, Gray, Brown, or the same as the house trim color. Whichever is most complimentary to the roof and overall appearance of the property.
